

Changing Gears

What would you do if you were not afraid? Changing Gears is the true story of one woman asking herself that very question. What followed was a family journey of epic proportions a journey of physical challenge, emotional endurance, teamwork, perseverance, and tremendous learning opportunities. It was a discovery of self, of priorities, of accepting hardships, of appreciating blessings, and of contrasting a comfortable past life with the extreme hardship and poverty of those they met. Would the journey be a dream come true or a mother's worst nightmare? Join Nancy, her husband John, and their young twin sons as they ride their bicycles from Alaska to Argentina.
