

Hell On Earth

When staunch trade unionist Reg Hallsworth gets relocated to Hell few can imagine the trouble it will cause. Certainly not Death Third Class number 221 of the Human Transition Department, who hides him there to cover up his own clerical error. Certainly not Norris who knows nothing of the afterlife, so much so that he doesn't even know Jenny, the girl he's currently dating, is an Angel. His Guardian Angel if you really want to put a label on that sort of thing. And certainly not Jenny who is far too busy trying to help Norris get over his epiphany, his life-changing liberation... his nervous breakdown. But with Hell on strike and sinners queuing up to get in they soon will. With a disaster of biblical proportions just around the corner it is up to these unlikely heroes to save the day and find a suitable location to build a new Hell... on Earth. If you had to build a new Hell somewhere on Earth where would you put it?
